

Slight Risk upgrade — upper Ohio Valley into the Northeast this afternoon–evening (wind primary; marginal/isolated hail). Isolated High Plains secondary.

Watching (not ALERT): No Day 4–8 severe areas drawn. Soft signal only — Wednesday focus OH into the lower Missouri Valley.

TORNADO

Tornado probability remains low. Any brief spin-ups most likely along the front from Ohio into western New York as storms organize mid–late afternoon.

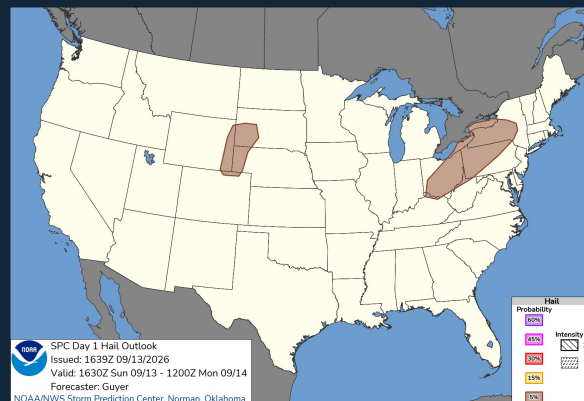

Watch towns: Columbus • Cleveland • Pittsburgh • Buffalo • Rochester • Syracuse • Scranton

HAIL

Marginal/isolated hail possible with the strongest cells — upper Ohio Valley/Northeast corridor, plus isolated High Plains storms.

Watch towns: Dayton • Youngstown • Erie • Binghamton • Albany • Cheyenne • Scottsbluff • Rapid City

THUNDERSTORM

UPGRADE: Slight Risk Northeast — damaging wind is the primary threat as clusters/bows race east along the cold front this afternoon–evening.

Watch towns: Cincinnati • Columbus • Akron • Pittsburgh • Harrisburg • Albany • Hartford • Boston
